What's the Big Interest?

In most institutions of higher learning, the library is the center of many activities. RUCCAS is no different. In the rain, in the snow, in beautiful weather, and even at night, the students are fascinated by the building and what it has to offer. What is it that fascinates them so much???

Could it be the quiet atmosphere?

Could it be the studious atmosphere?

Could it be the rows and rows of books filled with knowledge?

No! It's the steps outside leading to this great hallway of knowledge. There's no better place to meet your friends and shoot the bull!

Such souls,
Whose sudden visitations, daze
the world,
Vanish like lightning, but they leave behind
A voice that in the distance far away
Wakens, the slumbering ages
Henry Taylor

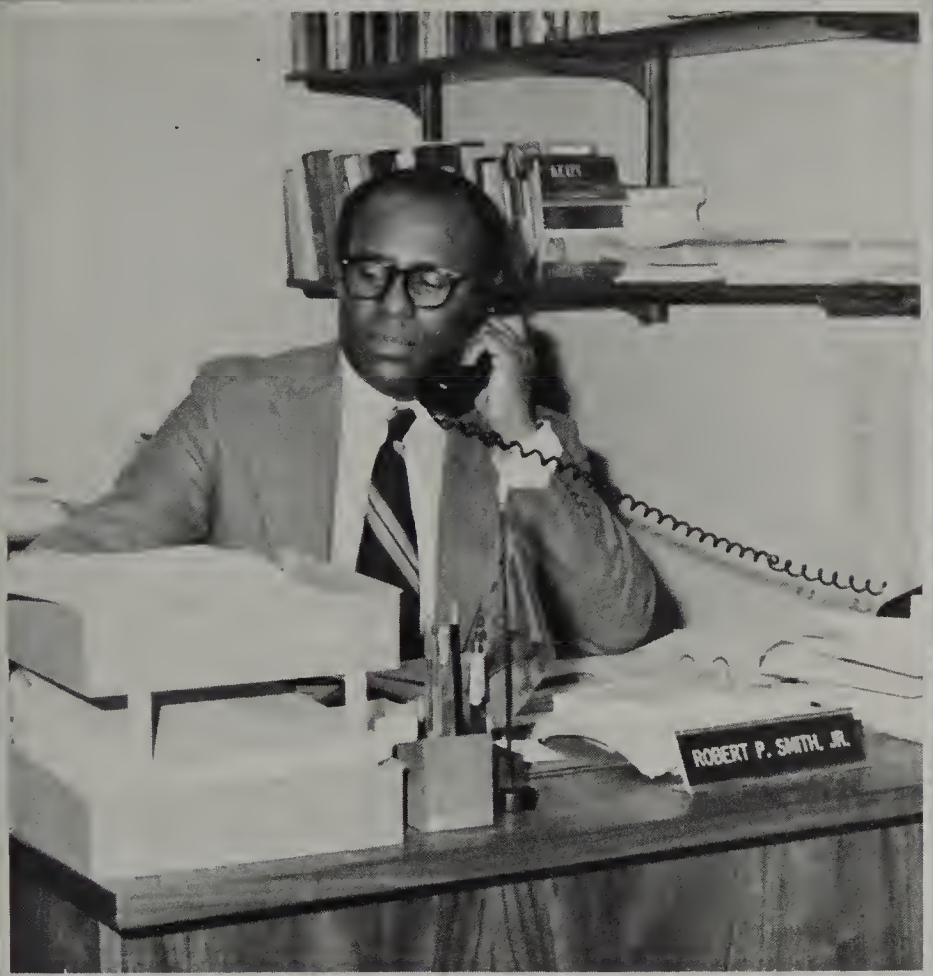

GUIDANCE

Mr. Walter G. Smith, District Attorney

Dr. Bruce Smith, Assistant Dean

Unlike the deans of many universities, the deans at BNU have a genuine interest in the students. This is exemplified through the many coffee hours held for the purpose of getting to know the deans better and for discussing any problems that might have arisen. The Dean of Students Office visited summer sessions through Fredy Canture and Tim Wells. They helped with personal, family and educational problems.

KNOWLEDGE

A black and white photograph of a group of nine people, seven men and two women, standing behind a long table. They are dressed in professional attire, including suits, ties, and a lab coat. The table in front of them holds various items, including boxes, bottles, and a small metal stand. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

A black and white photograph of a group of nine people, likely a church choir or a similar group, posing indoors. The group consists of seven men and two women. They are arranged in two rows: three people are seated in the front row, and six people are standing behind them. The individuals are dressed in formal or semi-formal attire, including sweaters, shirts, ties, and jackets. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

After a year and a half of waiting, Burger King finally opened. Located at 5th and Penn Streets, the restaurant is a welcome addition to the Rutgers community. Students and faculty can be seen enjoying a whopper or yumbo any time of the day. Exclusive dining facilities for RUCCAS include the College Center, Mr. Softee's truck, Ken's truck, and now Burger King. Who could ask for anything more?

Participation

Along with the knowledge one gets from his professors and books, comes the knowledge from actual participation, for it is here we really learn. Students at RUCCAS are involved with groups such as P.I.R.G. (Public Interest Research Group) JSU (Jewish Student Union) Political Science Society, Accounting Society and many more. The different organizations sponsor speakers, films, workshops, and parties. They are all, indeed, learning experiences through participation.

The Freshmen were welcomed officially on three different occasions this year. On Wednesday, the day before the fall term began, the Dean of Students Office sponsored an activities day. Clubs, organizations, fraternities and sororities were at hand to welcome and recruit the class of 78. On the following weekend, a group of freshmen and student advisors headed for the Appel Farm in Elmer, N.J. Basketball, swimming, tennis, softball, interpersonal games, camp fires, singing and roasting marshmallows were some of the activities that filled the weekend. The next Friday and Saturday was the final orientation. Members of the Camden community were invited to dinner. After dinner, there were workshops and rap sessions, followed by a swimming party and dance. The students brought their sleeping bags and sacked out in the College Center at an all night film festival. After breakfast on Saturday morning, Congressman Florio and representatives from the Mayor's office met with students to discuss the Bicentennial celebration. A street festival closed the weekend and the official welcome to the frosh.

Ruccas Welcomes the Class of '78

Student Congress and the College Center

Mr. Jerald F. terHorst, former press secretary to President Gerald Ford, spoke to an audience of approximately two to three hundred on Monday, October 28th. Mr. terHorst, who was one of Ford's first appointments when he succeeded to the presidency on August 9th, resigned in protest over the Nixon pardon on September 8th. terHorst gave some impressions of the President—What type of President he would be.

On Thursday November 7th, David Williams of the Assassination Information Bureau spoke to an audience of about five hundred in the College Center. David presented a film and evidence supporting the argument that Oswald was not the lone assassin of J.F.K. According to the Bureau, Oswald was probably an undercover agent for the CIA, which played a major role in the plot along with a Cuban group.

"I would be devastated to find out that there had been a deal between Ford and his predecessor"

Audience listens to David Williams' question the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of J.F.K.

Soccer Squad

Completes First Championship Season

The Pioneers compiled a 6-4-1 record, only the second winning record in 16 years, on their way to clinching the NAIA District 31 championship. Playing in their second post-season tournament game in two years they captured the Area VII runner up trophy in a close 1-0 loss to George Mason Univ. of Fairfax, Va.

Many new records were set under rookie head coach George Phillips including back-to-back double-digit victories over Lincoln and Widener. At Lincoln eight players tallied with two players each scoring a three goal 'hat trick.'

Highlights of the season included a game vs. Howard Univ. in Washington, D.C. Howard went on to win this year's NCAA Division I National Championship and also ranked #1 in the national polls. Another opponent, Federal City College, was also ranked nationally, having been #19 in a mid-season poll.

Graduating seniors include this year's leading scorer KADALAH KROMAH, and four year vets goalie CRAIG ALPER, forward ALAN BUCKINGHAM, and manager BARRY SCHIFREEN.

Pioneers Finish Third in

District 31; Send Three to Nationals

The pinnacle of success for RUCCAS wrestling came too early in the season. It came down in Salisbury, Maryland just as students were beginning Christmas break.

They defeated Salisbury 20-14 after they had come up with victories over NCE, Lincoln, Catawba, Baptist Bible, and Rutgers Newark within a two-week period.

Besides the improved 10-5 record, the grapplers showed how much better they were than last year (10-6) when they pasted Salisbury, a very highly touted squad which beat the Pioneers last year by over 20 points.

After the Christmas break things didn't go very smoothly, as they could only muster up a 4-4 record, mainly because of the transfer of Dave Cherry (190) and injuries to Jim Curry (134), Jim Di Benedetto (142), and Dan Shope (150).

RUCCAS did salvage a third place finish in the NAIA Districts, with Steve Shaw (118), Walt Waltz (190), and Bruce Cantwell (HWT) going to Nationals.

Shaw took a 16-4 record into the Nationals, but although he had good leads in both matches he wrestled, he dropped one by a referee's decision and another when he was taken down late in the bout.

Captain Walt Waltz took a 14-5 record and tested it in the Nationals, but he, too, came up short.

But Bruce Cantwell, who sported an 18-6 record, came up with RUCCAS' first victory in the Nationals ever and was elected Pioneers' MVP.

Bob Rodriguez (126) came back after being injured last year and was impressive, finishing second in the Districts.

So was transfer Clark Mangle (134), who worked out for four months before he could join the squad and then efficiently filled in at 134 although he should have been at 126.

Jim Di Benedetto was tough and fast at 142, but a late season injury hampered his style and he lost in the finals of Districts to a grappler he might have easily defeated.

Freshman Jim Kolo (157) moved up to 167 in Districts and thus couldn't really show his capabilities in the tournament, but still was impressive in midseason when he pulled out the Kings (N.Y.) match with a 7-4 victory.

Sophomore Gene Pirolli (177) and Freshman Tom Rooney (167) were quite a pair together as the two showed us what guts are as neither had wrestled in high school but showed determination on the RUCCAS mat.

Freshman Pat Flynn (150) and Al Harris (150) both came out late in the season and filled in wherever needed. At one point of the season Harris was willing to wrestle heavy-weight when it appeared Cantwell couldn't wrestle! Flynn, despite the fact he hadn't recovered his wind, got a big pin in the Philadelphia Bible match.

 = RU-C Holiday Toumy.

The Rutgers Pioneer Basketball finished the season with an outstanding 20-4 record. The Pioneers were lead by Rendell Bradley (339 points; 14.1 pt/game) and Bob Gainey (288 points; 12.5 pts/game) in the scoring department while Ron Reed and Andre Robinson were outstanding on defense.

For the second year in a row the Pioneers won the annual Holiday Tournament held at Rutgers.

MVP's for the year were Ron Reed and Andre Robinson, while Rendell Bradley and Tom Starbeck were Tournament MVPs.

Women's Basketball Team Completes First Season

PIONEERS WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM

—Members of the first Rutgers-Camden women's intercollegiate basketball squad include (L to R) Norma L. Munoz, Maryann Roseman and Marie T. Mojta, Sylvia A. Bailey, Janice L. Anderson, and Robin G. Martin and Mary D. Meng. The distaff team, which is competing in the New Jersey Women's Collegiate Basketball Conference, is part of the gradually expanding Pioneers athletic program in the new $3.1 million Gymnasium at the urban campus.

Difficult Diamond Season

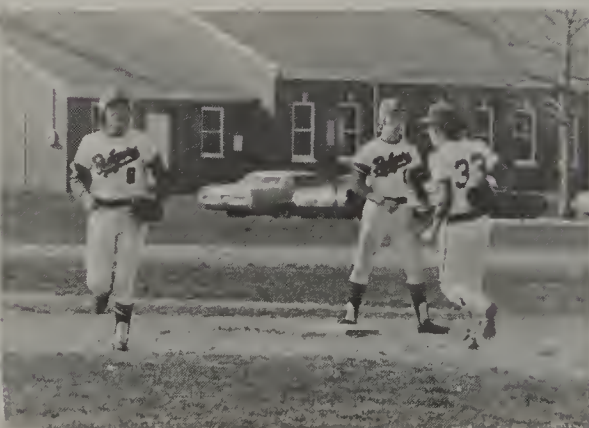

The Rutgers South Jersey Varsity Baseball Team kicked off the 1975 season with a southern tour introduced into their worthy schedule for the first time.

Seniors, Pat Freeman won the batting title and paced the squad with a .362 average, Catcher Mark Hansen was named the most valuable player, and Pitcher-First Baseman Mike Townsend was the recipient of the Coaches award. Both Hansen and Townsend concluded four years of varsity competition at Rutgers South Jersey. Mike Townsend was picked for the District 31 All Star Team as a pitcher.

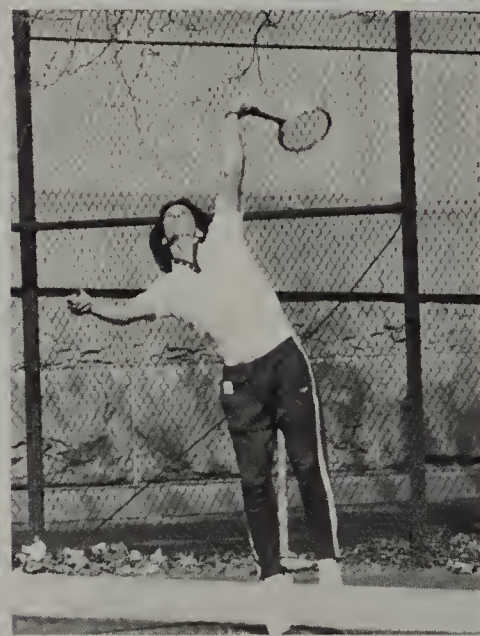

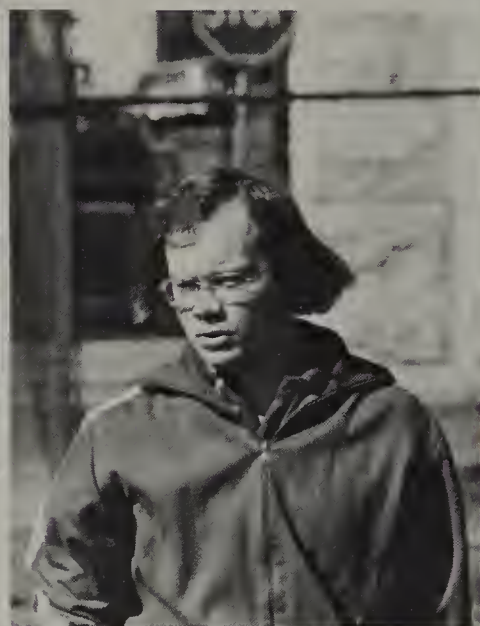

The season concluded with a record of 5 wins and 12 losses, but the measurement of growth and determination by the team's underclassmen Junior John Sarin, Junior Charles Tortella, and Freshman Ken Zimmerman was not told by the season record.

Varsity Tennis

The Black Outsiders captured the Intramural Football Championship this year outscoring the No Names 6 to 0 in a hard fought football game. Scab Fussell scored the winning TD on a punt return in sudden death overtime on the second day of play.

Fussell sparked the Outsiders all season long with his fine running and he was named the League's Most Valuable Offensive Player. Paul Crawford had a fine season for the Outsiders and he was named a corecipient of the Defensive Most Valuable Player Award along with Bruce Cantwell of KSU who sparkled all year with his stellar linebacker play.

Special thanks go to Mr. Atkinson for his efforts to upgrade the Intramural Football Program this year. Also, Joe Bonder must be commended for his efforts to bring recognition to the Intramural Football Program here at Rutgers. His outstanding news coverage of the games has helped the Football Program become a major event every year extra-curricular activity on campus.

Since 1967, the Sigma Epsilon chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi, a national fraternity dedicated to friendship, chivalry, and service, has grown to become an important part of campus life.

With more than 40 brothers actively participating in student government, intramural sports, Greek Week, Party Little, or the Blood Drive, TEP continues to be deeply involved with students and their rights and privileges at RUCCAS.

Whether sharing the good times, or lending a shoulder in troubled times, TEP remains more than just a social fraternity, but a brotherhood proudly devoted to serving their fellow man in cooperation and friendship.

PHI SIG

Organized in 1971, the local chapter of Phi Sigma, a national social-service sorority founded in 1913 at Hunter College, has promoted its goals of scholarship, service, and friendship at RUCCAS.

Besides extensive involvement in the IFSC Blood Drive and Party Little, Phi Sigma Sigma has also collected donations for the National Kidney Foundation, and they provided a merry Christmas, complete with tree, trimmings, and presents, for their invalid neighbor, Mrs. Barton.

Likewise, the sisters implemented the Story Book Hour for children at nearby hospitals, and sponsored an Easter party for a Camden orphanage.

Fine Arts Building is Dedicated

A new addition to the RUCCAS campus this year was the long awaited Fine Arts Building. The $4.7 million building provides undergraduates with facilities specifically designed and equipped to serve their educational needs. Housed within the instructional wing are music practice rooms, an electric music laboratory, and studios for graphics and printing and drawing, clay modeling and film. In the other wing is the auditorium and art gallery.

Holmes, the grandson of Cherry Hill and Bradford T. Smith of Haddonfield, were named the winners who best exemplify the "student image" by the Rutgers-Camden Alumni Association. Selection for the awards by a five-member committee of peers was based on campus life, leadership and participation in campus activities, service to the college, and usefulness to the future.

Miss Smith, a graduate of Cherry Hill High School East, majored in English at the urban center and was active in the Student Congress, "The Champ," newspaper staff, Nursing, Lay Chantry, and the Fine Arts Building Program Committee.

Mr. Smith, a graduate of Haddonfield High School, served as president of the 1972 Student Congress. The recipient of an Alumni Association Scholarship, he was recognized by Phi Sigma Alpha national political science honor society. He is also a member of Tau Epsilon Phi social fraternity.

Holmes and Brad were included in the 1975 national listing of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

The Role of the Urban University in the Decade of the Seventies

Rutger's students discuss the Cooper-Grant community with University President, Edward Bloustein.

On Monday, Oct. 14, a seminar in the Education Consortium series, entitled, "The Role of Urban University in the Decade of the Seventies" was held. The panelist were presidents of area urban universities.

Students protest the position of RUCCAS in regard to expansion into the Cooper-Grant community.

The fine arts theatre's first performances were appropriately the products of students. Seven plays were performed throughout the weekend dedication. A panel composed of professional theatre representatives, faculty members and students were on hand to make cash awards to the top three plays.

First place award resulted in a tie and was presented to Frayda Glanzberg for "Dayfall," and to A. Paul Pierson for "Sayonara."

The second place award went to Delores Stenton for her comedy "The Way We Are." Third place was awarded to Albert De Magnus for "The Dignity of Man."

Other plays entered in the student playwriting contest were "Fronts and Backs" by Leonora G. Bragere, "The Enemy" by Andre Jones and "Marriage" also by Andre Jones.

A. Paul Pierson accepts the first place award from Dean Gordon for his play "Sayonara."

DAY CARE CENTER

Rutgers-Camden Day Care Program opened its doors as a co-op center in the lounge of the second floor of the Law School on February 29th. The center will move to the first floor of the Annex when the renovations are completed. Children of students professors and the community attend the center. Toys, books, play pens, high chairs, etc. were donated. The day care staff consisted of both paid and volunteer workers. The center has proven to be a very successful and convenient adventure.

Will it ever be finished in time?

The Many Faces of Lily Tomlin

Culture, in the form of comedy, came to the RUCCAS campus this spring with the Lily Tomlin show. Thanks to Student Congress and the College Center Board, students were able to relax, enjoy, and respond to the many talents of this dynamic and versatile performer.

The auditorium of the new fine arts building resounded with laughter as Lily raced through her one-woman monologue. Her act allowed her not only to reveal her obvious talent as a comedienne, but also to exhibit her skills as an actress and a mime. During each ninety minute performance, Lily changed characters with an almost "Jeckyll-Hyde-like" transformation. Facial expressions, mannerisms, and voice—all changed totally in the course of a split second!

The audiences may have come hoping and expecting to see Lily in the guise of such old "Laugh-In" standards as Ernestine the snorting telephone operator and Edith Ann the suprisingly astute five and a half year old. Yet, Lily went far beyond simply fulfilling these expectations.

She had polished up Ernestine, Edith Ann and Susie Sorority and she also had added a collection of new characters to her skits.

Her repertoire had expanded to include such clever and winning personalities as a 1950's teenager, the world's oldest beauty expert, and a tactless, life-of-the-party funeral-goer.

Lily not only succeeded in going far beyond the expectations of the audience, she also managed to shatter a few of these expectations in the process. Instead of doing a traditional stand-up comedian routine, she fell down! Much to the delight—and surprise—of the crowd, Lily delivered a series of one-liners while lying flat on her back.

The break-neck pace at which the show moved along and the ease with which Lily shifted from character to character kept the audience at once attentive and off-balance. For Lily Tomlin's comedy is as complex and changeable as she, herself, seems to be. It is multi-faceted:

At times, poignant and touching;
At times, controversial;
At times outrageous;
But always, entertaining!

In the three-year period that followed the murders of President Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald, eighteen witnesses interviewed by the Dallas police, the FBI, or the Warren Commission died: six by gunfire, three in motor accidents, two by suicide, one from a cut throat, one from a karate chop to the neck, three from heart attacks, and two from "natural" causes.

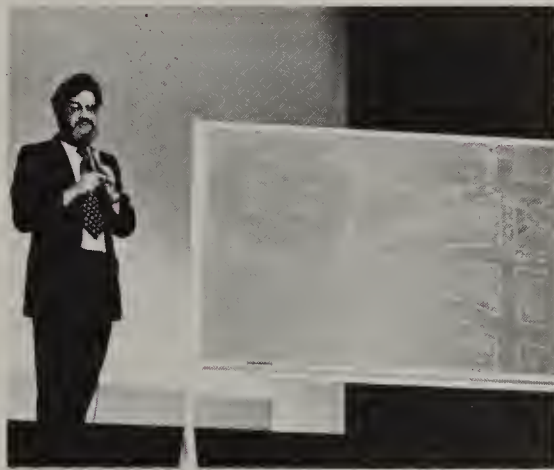

An actuary, asked by the London Sunday Times to compute the life expectancy of only fifteen of the deceased witnesses, concluded that on November 22, 1963, the odds against all fifteen witnesses being dead by February 1967, were one hundred thousand trillion to one:

WHO
KENNEDY

On Thursday, April 3, Mark Lane, defense attorney for Lee Harvey Oswald, Appeared in Rutgers Fine Arts Building. Speaking to a full house, Lane took a fresh and explosive look at the Kennedy Assassination. Thwarted in his attempt to represent Oswald in a posthumous trial, he reconstructed the crime on location in Dallas, creating the amazing film "Rush to Judgement" which was shown.

Roger Williams, Treasurer of the College Center Board, introduces Mark Lane.

Dick Gregory

Dick Gregory, social satirist, critic, philosopher, author, human rights activist and political analyst appeared at RUCCAS on May 9th. Gregory, who just ended almost two years of fasting in protest to the Vietnam war, spoke to a capacity-filled gymnasium. This was the final program of the 1974-75 year presented by the College Center Programing Board.

Rape: A Preventive Inquiry

The Rutgers Women's Coalition sponsored a day-long conference on Saturday February 1st. Speakers and workshops focused on the issue of rape in America and what is being done to prevent and treat it. The conference opened with a film and a panel discussion on the social ramification of rape. In the afternoon workshops were offered centering around different aspects of rape. Some of them included self-defense, law, psychology of the victim, psychology of the rapist, hospital care, rape crisis center and W.O.A.R.

W.C. Fields, 80 Proof

On Tuesday, Dec. 3, "W.C. Fields, 80 proof". was presented at the college center under the auspices of the Student Congress and the College Center Board. Written by Ronald Fields, the live stage presentation recreated the masterful humorist in authentic costume and make-up, sharing with the audience his uniquely irreverent point-of-view. It was an evening with the man who drank double martinis every morning before breakfast, and left his money for the establishment of an orphanage "where no religion of any sort is to be preached."

"I'd rather be in this hole than in Philadelphia"

"Kiss Me Kate"

The first musical comedy in the new $4.7 million Fine Arts Building at the Camden campus was presented April 18, 19, and 20.

Joseph Reale (Baptista), shows interest in the taming of his daughter Katherine, played by Debbie MacBride of Haddonfield, by suitor, Petruchio, (Larry Biren of Philadelphia).

Petruchio makes progress in the taming of his fiancée Katharine.

Gary P. Mather as Lucentio and Petruchio.

The June 8th, 25th annual Commencement Exercises marked an end to the undergraduate academic studies of the class of 1975. Words of wisdom and reflection were given by Dean Gordon, guest speaker, writer Nat Hentoff, Rev. Venebales and Bradford Smith.

The day is both a happy and a sad time. We've looked forward to graduation for four years, but it's hard to say good-bye to our friends and professors, who grew to mean more to us than we thought they could. But it is good-bye, indeed. Armed with the knowledge we've gathered at RUCCAS, we must go into the world and make our dreams a reality.

Nat Hentoff

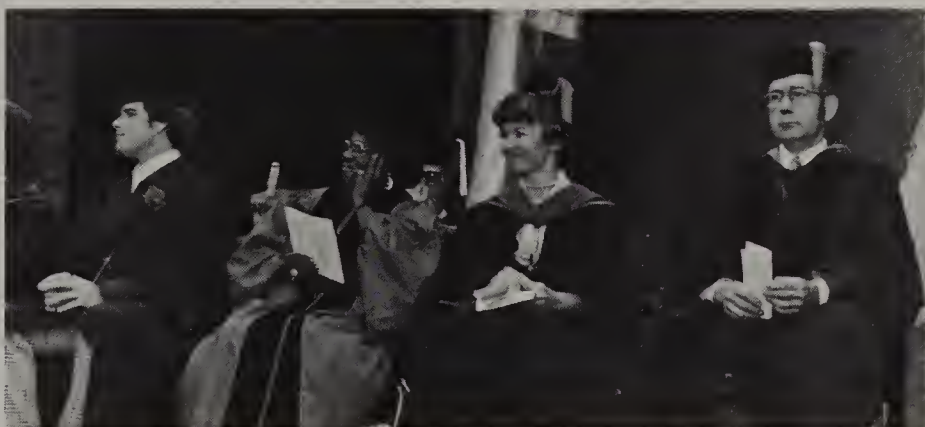

Reverend Thomas Venebales

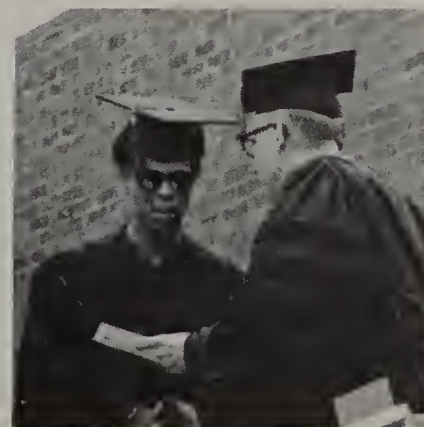

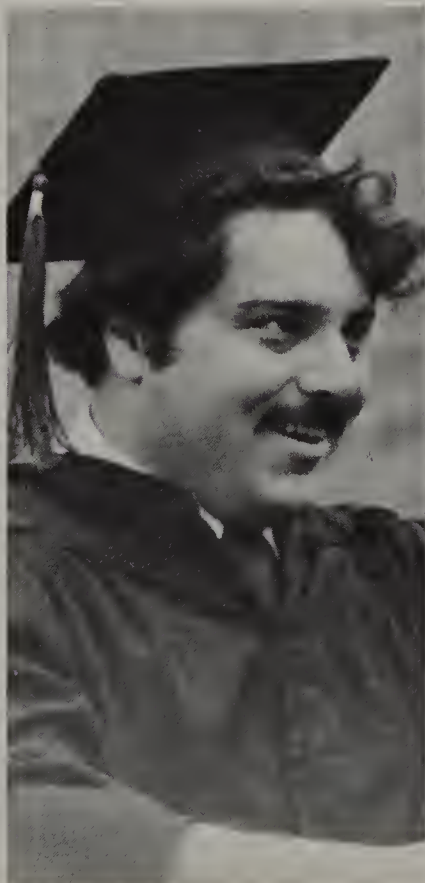

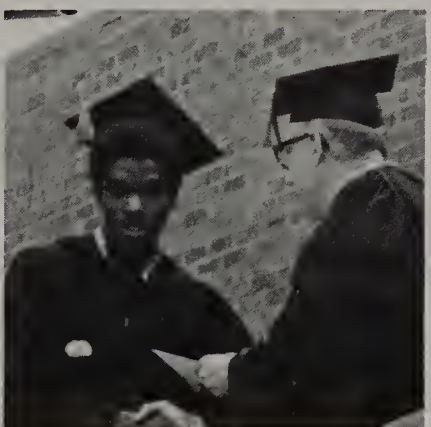

Wisdom is not finally tested by the schools,

Wisdom cannot be pass'd from one having it to another not having it,

Wisdom is of the soul, is not susceptible to proof, is its own proof.

Walt Whitman

ARMY ROTC and RUTGERS CAMDEN

The Army ROTC officer commissioning program is now available to RUCCAS students on a no-cost, cross-enrolled basis with the University of Pennsylvania.

Check (☒) the reasons why you should look into it.

- Every ROTC cadet is paid $100 per month for up to 20 months in junior and senior years.
- Every cadet receives approximately $500, plus room, board, and travel expenses for attending a six-week summer training period (generally attended between junior and senior years).
- Instruction in leadership techniques and management procedures characterize ROTC courses.
- Successful completion of the Army ROTC Program leads to a commission as Second Lieutenant, and the over-$10,000 starting salary that goes with it.
- Completing the program opens the option of two careers: a career in the active Army, or a career in the Army Reserve or National Guard to complement your civilian career field.
- Up to 45 months of G.I. Bill educational assistance payments to help finance further education upon completion of active service.
- Special programs are available for Armed Forces veterans who have had enlisted service, including partial financial aid payable in addition to G.I. Bill educational assistance benefits.
